My Personal Comments on J-PARC

S. Nagamiya

RIKEN, Wako, Saitama 351-0198, Japan

a corresponding author: shoji.nagamiya@riken.jp

In this talk I firstly would describe the motivation for the construction of J-PARC and early days of J-PARC, a sort of prehistory. Secondary, two significant damages after the operation and their effects will be described. Thirdly, I will touch upon the near-future plans and also distant future possibilities. At the end, the importance of the internationalization for J-PARC will be discussed.